

BOLLEKE

Mood maker

Wherever it's used, Bolleke immediately ramps up the ambience. And it doesn't require an electrical outlet. This spherical light can easily be hung on a cord or hook, on a tree, under your parasol or on your tent awning. Cordless, portable and rechargeable, that's Bolleke. Charge it up via the USB connection and enjoy instant ambience for up to 24 hours, in three settings. Bolleke can easily be hung on its rubber loop. Time to go inside because darkness has fallen? Why? With Bolleke the evening is still young.

Light up your evening

Bolleke spreads its light evenly across the whole sphere. Thanks to a technique that was specially developed by Fatboy to give evenings more atmosphere. To switch it on just press the unobtrusive button in its colored cap. Because it's waterproof, Bolleke can be used outside. But, of course, it can also be put to good use inside. In that makeshift tent in your child's bedroom, for example, or perhaps for telling somebody's fortune.

About the designer

Bolleke was designed by Nathalie Schellekens (Eindhoven, the Netherlands). Nathalie designs products that are timeless and iconic in appearance, and super-practical so that you can use them every day. She devotes a lot of attention to pragmatic details, such as Bolleke's loop. For this she drew her inspiration from the type of clip used to stow sails on a sailboat. Exactly the kind of detail that we love at Fatboy.
